

Haying with your hatchback?

JOHN DEERE

Of course not. That little car could barely make it up a curb, let alone pull twice its weight through a field all day. And its parts wouldn't fare much better.

Auto parts are built for cross-town commutes. John Deere parts are designed to take on 18-hour days and 2,000-lb. bales. Not the same at all.

Keep the car on the road where it belongs. Trust the parts built for the work you depend on. Trust genuine John Deere parts.

JohnDeere.com/DontRiskIt