

Taking your combine to the supermarket?

Then you might as well swing by the auto parts store on the way home. But if you're carting 500,000 bushels rather than a few sacks of groceries, you probably need tougher parts.

All John Deere parts, even simple things like belts, oil, batteries and filters, are made for tough crops, long hours and avoiding downtime. Auto parts just aren't.

So unless a runaway shopping cart is the toughest obstacle your equipment faces, we suggest you trust the real thing.
Genuine John Deere parts.

JOHN DEERE

JohnDeere.com/DontRiskIt